

LUTRON AUTHORIZED ONLINE MARKETPLACE RESELLERS — U.S.

Lutron is committed to serving our customers by providing products of the highest quality, performance, and value. In order to successfully achieve this goal, we rely on our authorized distributors, retailers, dealers and other resellers to add value to our products before they reach their final users.

When purchasing Lutron branded products from sellers on online marketplaces (such as Amazon.com, Walmart.com, or eBay.com), it is important to notice by whom the product is being sold. Only the Lutron Authorized Online Marketplace Resellers listed below are approved by Lutron to sell Lutron branded products on online marketplaces, based on various eligibility criteria they have met. Any online marketplace reseller NOT listed below is considered to be unauthorized.

Please avoid purchasing Lutron branded products from unauthorized online resellers since those products may be, for instance, damaged, defective, missing parts, stolen or used. Lutron reserves the right not to assume responsibility over any goods purchased from an unauthorized online reseller.

If you purchase a Lutron branded product from an unauthorized online reseller, your Lutron Limited Warranty claim may not be valid, unless where required by law; nor is any product covered under the Warranty if it: (a) has a defaced, obscured, or altered serial number; (b) is refurbished, altered, or modified by an unauthorized third-party yet misleadingly marketed as “new”; or (c) was purchased from a dealer that engages in other harmful activity, such as damage to Lutron’s brand or reputation.
